Jane and the tadpoles

story and illustrations by:
Shannon Thomas

Once upon a warm spring day,
Jane was out and wished to play.

But...

No one was home,
her friends were gone.
"What shall I do,
how can I go on?"

All alone, no one to chase.
All are gone, no one to race.

But...

Up from the pond
a noise rang out.

I must go see,
I`ll give mom a shout."

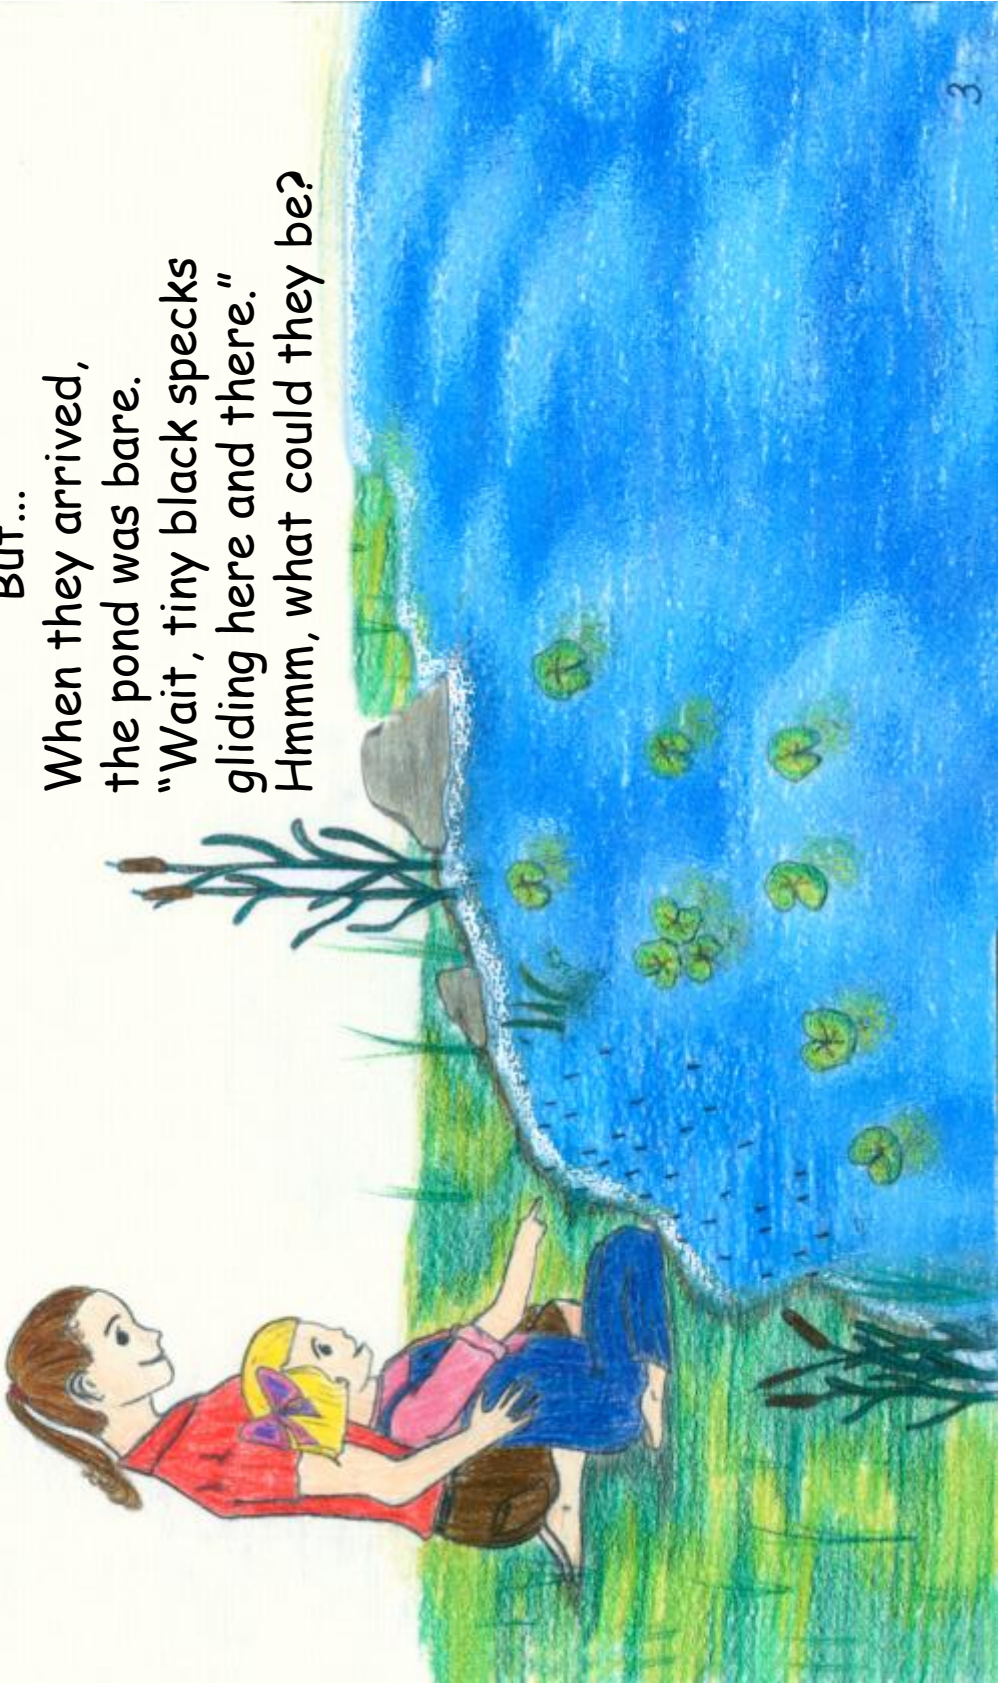

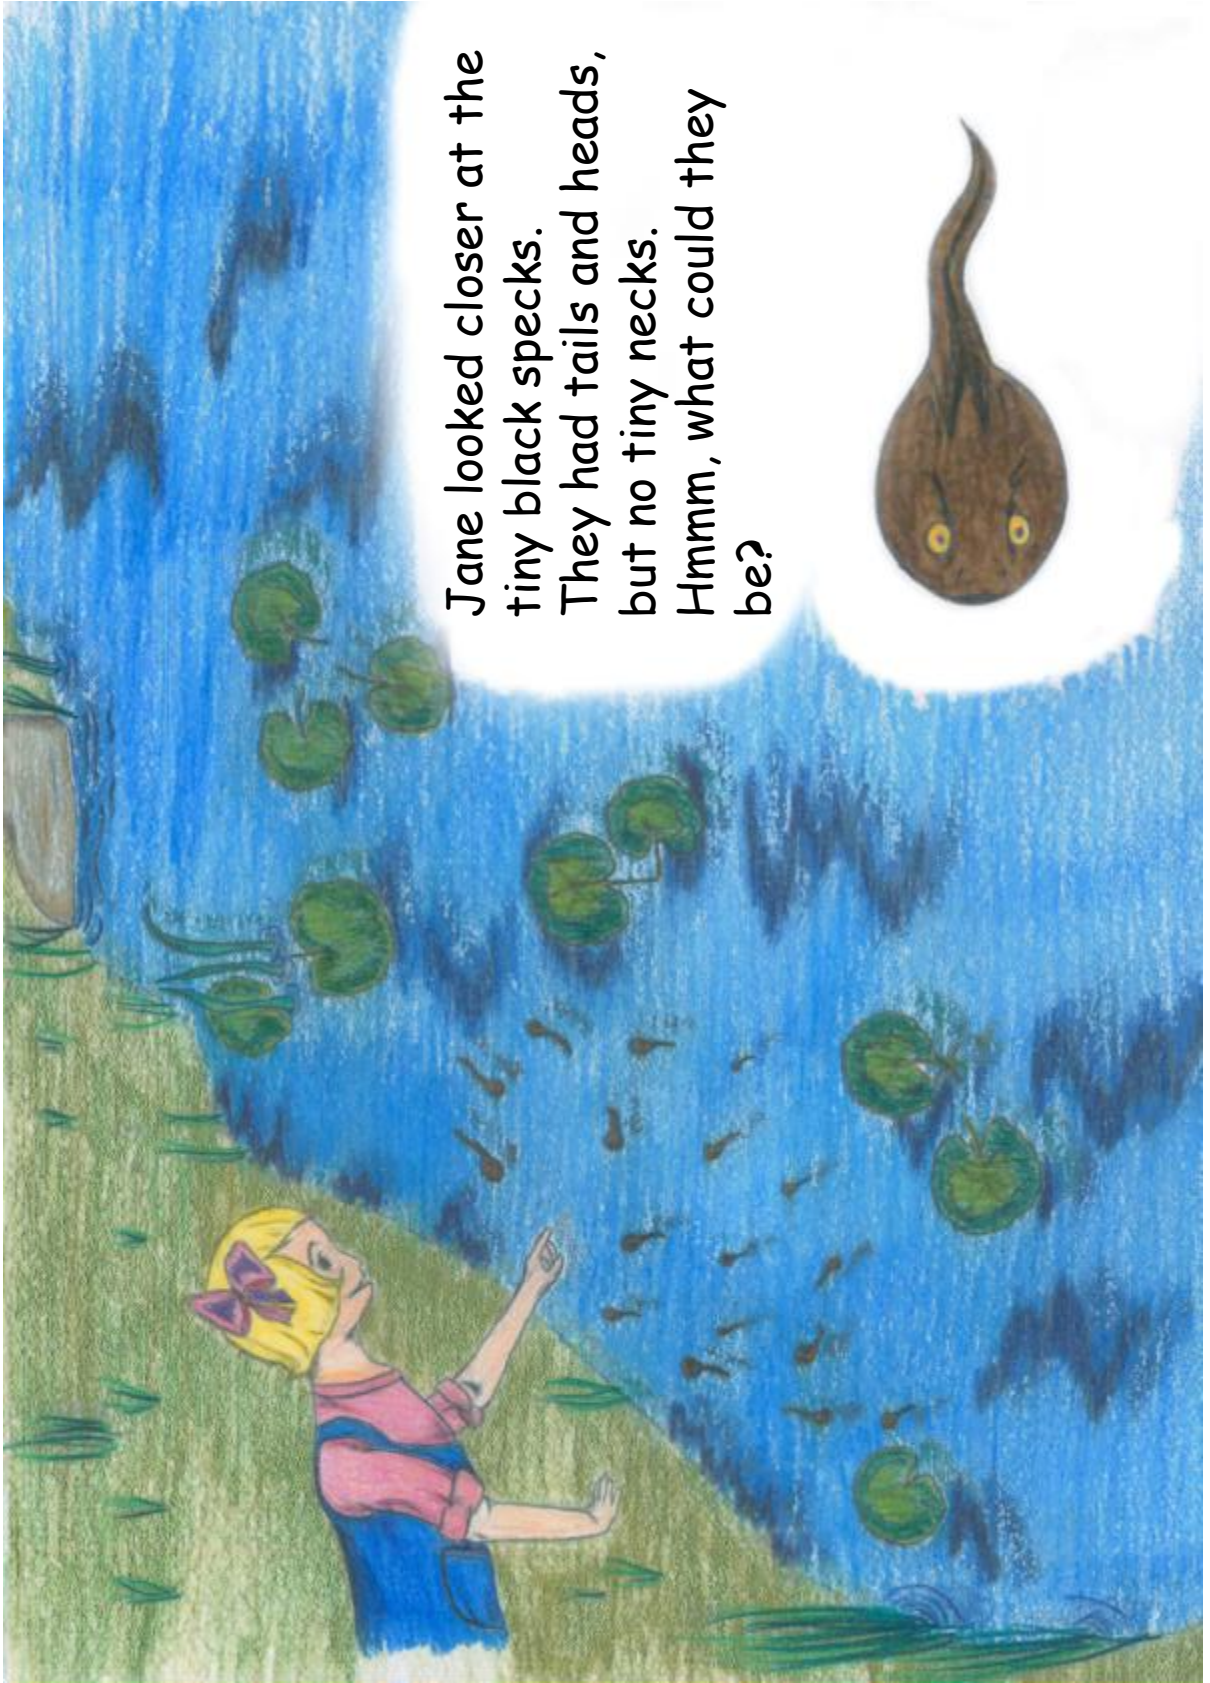

"Mom come please",
she asked with glee.
Together they went down to see.

But...

When they arrived,
the pond was bare.

"Wait, tiny black specks gliding here and there."
Hmmm, what could they be?

Jane looked closer at the tiny black specks.
They had tails and heads,
but no tiny necks.
Hmmm, what could they be?

Then the answer came hopping 4 and 5 toed.
"Mom, each is a tadpole
that will turn into a toad!"

Each week Jane watched as the tadpoles grew from
no legs to four legs,
and then who knew...

One day, out of the water they came.
And hopped away not at all the same.
